Programme Intervention: 180113 Implement electronic tax systems to improve compliance both at National and LG levels.
100% domestic revenue collected.	30.73 percent of the annual domestic revenue was realized in quarter four. Total domestic revenue collections during the fourth quarter of the FY 2024/25 were UGX 6,489.04 billion against a target of UGX 6,366.17 billion, resulting in a surplus of UGX 122.87 billion	Reasons for the surplus majorly include; • Enhanced compliance initiatives which focused on field inspections, return vetting, closely monitoring and recovery from arrears. • Business recovery. Growth in income tax collections from key players during the period was primarily driven by increased profitability. • Government honored its commitments and paid taxes on behalf of Oil Palm Uganda among others. •The rise of revenue from betting/gaming activities is attributed to increased payments from some of the top taxpayers during the period, driven by the peak soccer season and monitoring of returns which led to improved declaration • Ongoing taxpayer engagements coupled with intensified field activities and enforcement actions targeting non-compliant taxpayers have led to higher remittances • Paradigm shift in customer preferences to cashless transactions, mobile money services, points-of-sale and internet banking thus an increase in revenue from internet data and mobile money transfers

Performance highlights for the Quarter

During FY2024/25, NARO achieved significant milestones in technology generation and promotion across crop, livestock, and aquaculture sectors. It released several improved crop varieties, including four potatoes, three millet, one banana, and submitted three coffee varieties for approval (Plate: 1), enhancing yield, nutrition, and climate resilience. In livestock, NARO advanced genetic improvement by developing elite indigenous chickens, improved goat and cattle crosses, and high-yielding forages. In aquaculture, key innovations included improved feed formulations, a 20% increase in Ningu larval survival, and the development of protocols for integrated fish–vegetable systems. Infrastructure-wise, NARO established Vaccine Research and Production facility(Plate 2), completed and operationalized critical facilities including research laboratories, gene banks, vaccine production units, and livestock barns, significantly strengthening the national research system’s capacity to support Uganda’s agro-industrialisation agenda.

Variances and Challenges

During FY2024/25, NARO faced several challenges affecting its performance and sustainability. A significant increase in staff attrition was observed, largely due to salary disparities between NARO and public universities, making it difficult to retain skilled personnel. Additionally, a substantial portion of the vehicle fleet was beyond its useful life—exceeding five years or 250,000KM, thereby hampering field research activities. The organization also encountered growing pressure to cede public agricultural research land,threatening long-term research capacity. Furthermore, untimely termination of USAID-funded research contracts posed a serious risk to ongoing projects, requiring targeted interventions to preserve critical research undertakings.

One (01) forestry technology of strategic importance (forage trees), availed to uptake pathways for dissemination to farmers and improved productivity	Towards enhancing forestry production and productivity, 3,000 seedlings of Faidherbia albida (apple-ring acacia) trees were raised and distributed to 20 farmers for on-farm planting. Faidherbia albida is valuable resource for improving soil fertility, providing fodder for livestock, and offering protection against erosion. Towards enhancing soil conversion, 3000 seedlings of Calliandra were raised and distributed to 20 farmers and livestock pastoralists to integrate into their farming systems. Calliandra is a fast-growing shrub and nitrogen-fixing shrub suitable for soil conservation practices like soil erosion control and used by farmers as a fodder for livestock as they have a high biomass production. These are characterized by a rapid growth rate, drought tolerance, and a deep tap root system, which accesses deep water reserves, thus contributing to sustainable land management and agroecology. Towards development of cotton varieties, 2 lines were developed and identified. 0.2T of foundation seed BPA2015A were produced. Under pigeon pea, achievements were set under the objectives below: 1.expedite release of pea lines developed during previous research. Towards this, PVTs of 5 pea entries were set up at 5 sites: NgettaZARDI, Kitgum Satellite Station, AbiZARDI, NaSARRI and NabuinZARDI. 2 lines(ICEAP00540&ICEAP00554) performed better than the checks and were stable in Ngetta, AbiZARDI and NaSARRI. 2.Development, promotion and use of native rhizoid fertilizer. Under this, field trials were set up at NaSARRI and Ngetta and data collected at 5&10 weeks on total nodule count and final grain yield. Average grain yield was significantly different between varieties with higher yield in SEPI 1 than SEPI. 3.For commercialization of pea-based feed, fish feed and broiler starter with pigeon pea content enhanced fish growth and led to higher slaughter and hot carcass weight in broilers. Emerging climate change issues (anti-microbial resistance, drought tolerance, tolerance and resistance to pests and diseases; parasitoids and AI) integrated into research interventions across 16 Public Research institutes in 57 research streams.	Towards strengthening climate change mitigation and adaptation in agriculture, NARO deployed five Remote Telemetry Units (RTUs) across key Agro-Ecological Zones for real-time weather data access, and developed two tools—the Seasonal Characteristics Tool (SCT) and CRiSTAL—to provide localized, actionable climate advisories that support timely agronomic decisions, enhance resilience, and sustain farmer productivity and livelihoods. Additionally, 52 climate smart agricultural technologies (practice demonstrations on farm and field were conducted in eight (08) PARIs

Four 4 forestry technologies of strategic importance (site selection technology, clonal eucalyptus, Hass avocado and forage trees) Multiplied and adaptation determined for dissemination to farmers	Towards enhancing forestry production and productivity, 3,000 seedlings of Faidherbia albida (apple-ring acacia) trees were raised and distributed to 20 farmers for on-farm planting. Faidherbia albida is valuable resource for improving soil fertility, providing fodder for livestock, and offering protection against erosion. Towards enhancing soil conversion, 3000 seedlings of Calliandra were raised and distributed to 20 farmers and livestock pastoralists to integrate into their farming systems. Calliandra is a fast-growing shrub and nitrogen-fixing shrub suitable for soil conservation practices like soil erosion control and used by farmers as a fodder for livestock as they have a high biomass production. These are characterized by a rapid growth rate, drought tolerance, and a deep tap root system, which accesses deep water reserves, thus contributing to sustainable land management and agroecology.

6 technologies (cotton varieties, Pigeon peas and bio-pesticides) developed 1MT of foundation seed of candidate lines of cotton produced, research enabling environment maintained through 4 maintenances of research facilities.	Towards development of cotton varieties, 2 lines were developed and identified. 0.2T of foundation seed BPA2015A were produced. Under pigeon pea, achievements were set under the objectives below: 1.expedite release of pea lines developed during previous research. Towards this, PVTs of 5 pea entries were set up at 5 sites: NgettaZARDI, Kitgum Satellite Station, AbiZARDI, NaSARRI and NabuinZARDI. 2 lines(ICEAP00540&ICEAP00554) performed better than the checks and were stable in Ngetta, AbiZARDI and NaSARRI. 2.Development, promotion and use of native rhizoid fertilizer. Under this, field trials were set up at NaSARRI and Ngetta and data collected at 5&10 weeks on total nodule count and final grain yield. Average grain yield was significantly different between varieties with higher yield in SEPI 1 than SEPI. 3.For commercialization of pea-based feed, fish feed and broiler starter with pigeon pea content enhanced fish growth and led to higher slaughter and hot carcass weight in broilers.

Table 4.3: Vote Crosscutting Issues

i) Gender and Equity

Objective:	Integrate gender in Agricultural research streams to develop products which are friendly across all gender classes.
Issue of Concern:	Limited participation of women and youth and elderly in agriculture
Planned Interventions:	Integrate gender in Agricultural research streams to develop products which are gender friendly.
Budget Allocation (Billion):	0.300
Performance Indicators:	Number of gender friendly research products generated
Actual Expenditure By End Q4	0.3
Performance as of End of Q4	NARO developed 12 gender friendly technologies (8 crop, 4 agro-machinery)
Reasons for Variations	Resources were available to execute

ii) HIV/AIDS

Objective:	Identify appropriate market segments in commodity value chains for youth participation and gainful employment to minimize unemployment causative HIV/AIDS new infection among the youth.
Issue of Concern:	High levels of re-emerging new infection among the youth due to unemployment.
Planned Interventions:	Identify appropriate market segments in commodity value chains for youth participation for gainful employment.
Budget Allocation (Billion):	0.049
Performance Indicators:	Number of market segments in commodity value chains for youth participation.
Actual Expenditure By End Q4	0.049
Performance as of End of Q4	NARO supported twenty (20) market segments where the young people and women have been actively involved at eight (08) PARIs. These market segments and platforms included maize, coffee and pigeon pea processing and marketing enterprises specifically to address the needs of youth and increase their benefits and incomes from agricultural production. From this intervention, 1100 youth and 716 women farmers in Kyenjojo, Kyegegwa, Kibaale, Masindi, Kagadi, Soroti and Serere, Karenga, Katakwi, Moroto and Abim districts respectively were engaged. Additional, 18 youth groups were identified and trained in Sembabule, Nakaseke, Masindi, Kitgum and Apac respectively. Furthermore, six (06) groups were engaged in sorghum production in Soroti and Arapai as well as 7 youth group were trained in yam management in Adjumani and Karenga. Two hundred and eighty-three (283) youth were reached and trained in vegetable commodity growing and market extensions services. Additionally, 25 youth and women leaders were reached and linked cooperative services for financial support at National Crops Resources Research Institute in Namulonge through digital platforms. The youth and women leaders came from jinja, Kamuli, Kayunga and Wakiso districts. This initiative enables access to credit, savings, and other financial services that support agribusiness development and sustainable livelihoods among the youth and women hence reducing the risk of engaging in high-risk behaviours associated with HIV/AIDS transmission among others.
Reasons for Variations	Performance was on target

iii) Environment

Objective:	Generate technologies for climate change mitigation and adaptation
Issue of Concern:	High level of emerging and re-emerging pests and diseases which reduce total factor productivity. Low levels of adoption for climate change effects resilient technologies among communities across Uganda.
Planned Interventions:	Support research in environmentally and pandemic phenomena responsive products. NARO will establish state-of-art agro-meteorological research facility that will be fully equipped with solar radiation, temperature, humidity.
Budget Allocation (Billion):	1.638
Performance Indicators:	Number of climate Change resilient products generated

VOTE: 142 National Agricultural Research Organization (NARO)

Quarter 4

Actual Expenditure By End Q4	1.638
Performance as of End of Q4	During the year, NARO produced and distributed 80,755 tree seedlings, 19,384 tea seedlings, 38,100 Hass seedlings, 96,838 assorted fish fingerlings, 5493.8kg assorted fish feed, 2,047 chicken, 1,950kg of maize foundation seed, 2100kgs of bean foundation seed, 204,025 coffee seedlings, 194,331kg of assorted basic seed through various technology uptake pathways and 52 climate smart agricultural technologies (practice commodity-specific demonstrations on farm and field across different agro-ecological zones) were established. During technology development, NARO undertakes multilocational trials to ensure adaptability to different agro-ecological conditions. To further support research that is environmentally responsive with timely and reliable meteorological in information, NARO in partnership with Meteorological Department Services (MWE) and Makerere University supported the operationalization of the state of art agro-meteorological research facility at NaRL, Kawanda through installation of five (05) Remote Telemetry Units (RTUs). This facility is equipped with functional solar radiation, temperature, humidity, wind among other variables that support generation real-time data generation critical for application by scientists and farmers for climate mitigation, adaptation and decision making in agricultural commodity value-chains.

i. Inadequate funding for implementation of the sub county policing model.
ii. Inadequate human resource capacity to handle sophisticated crime and contemporary police challenges.
iii. High rate of attrition at an average of 1,000 annually coupled with a ban on recruitment affects service delivery.
iv. Low staff welfare which leads to low morale.
v. High detective caseload negatively impacts on the quality of investigations and accumulation of backlog.
vi. Inadequate staff & office accommodation.
vii. High costs of maintenance of the CCTV systems and other assets.
viii. Policing of emergencies and bye elections present operational challenges.
ix. Influx of refugees due to intermittent instability/conflict in the neighbouring countries
x. Accumulated arrears that makes suppliers hesitant to continue providing good and services to UPF hence affecting policing services.

d. Uganda Prisons Industries strengthened its partnerships with government Agencies; Non-Tax Revenue worth shs.3.3bn produced generated through production of furniture

Variances and Challenges

a. Prisoners' population is the major cost driver of prisons budget. It exerts pressure on housing, sanitation, Medicare, feeding, uniforms, staff numbers and delivery of prisoners to courts. In the FY2024/25, prisoner population increased by 3.2%(2,429 prisoners) ie from 76,724 to 79,153 prisoners

b. Delay in administration of Justice: Prisoners stay on remand for a period longer than the mandatory (Capital offenders – 17.3 months; Petty offenders – 2.5 months on average).
The remand population is still high, currently at 47.3% and prisoners & staff have to move 7,724Km daily across the country to access justice amidst high fuel prices & an old fleet leading to high costs of fuel & vehicle maintenance.

c. Use of commitment control system amidst inadequate budget provision for basic necessities of food utilities and clothing whose consumption can't be postponed hence over commitment

d. Provision of utilities on prepaid system amidst the inadequate budget allocation leading to requests for postpaid hence accumulation of arrears

e. Inadequate & inappropriate physical infrastructure to enhance safety & security of offenders, staff & public; undertake rehabilitation programs; promote the rights of prisoners and separate different categories

f. Prison Congestion: Current prisons carrying capacity for a daily average of 22,419 prisoners while the population is 79,804 inmates (June 2025) exceeding the holding capacity by 57,385 inmates - occupancy is 356.0%

g. Staff Accommodation: 6,962 staff not properly housed. They stay in improvised houses.

h. Security: Changing profiles of offenders with global increase in terrorism; Change in sentencing regime i.e. imprisonment for life; 60 years & above

i. Drought & Absence of Irrigation Infrastructure: UPS generally depends on rainfall yet its patterns are unreliable hence low production

Performance highlights for the Quarter

In line with Article 193(3) of the Constitution, the Local Government Finance Commission (LGFC) facilitated Conditional Grant Negotiations between Local Governments (LGs) and 9 Line Ministries for FY 2025/26. A total of 172 issues were deliberated upon across sectors including Education, Health, Works, Water, Agriculture, Gender, Lands, Trade, and Tourism.
From these discussions, 542 undertakings were agreed upon among the negotiating parties i.e Line Ministries, Local Governments, and Crosscutting MDAs.
It was established during the Midterm Review that: 368 undertakings (68%) were implemented, 174 undertakings (32%) remained unimplemented due to various constraints.
The review informed the planning and negotiation framework for FY 2026/27 and highlighted the need for strengthened coordination, and resource alignment to improve implementation of agreed actions.

Key issues identified included administrative barriers (e.g., town council creation, land lease bans), uncollected royalties (e.g., forestry and minerals), and low budget allocations. The Commission emphasized LED as a cross-cutting strategy for income generation, urging LGs to diversify revenue sources, leverage partnerships, and integrate LED into planning.

As part of its strategic efforts to support Local Governments in enhancing their own-source revenues LGFC aimed at deepening understanding and building capacity around Local Economic Development as a tool for sustainable Local Revenue Enhancement .The engagements also highlighted the need for counsellor induction, better collaboration between technical and political leaders, and the development of a policy brief to inform Government on LED implementation challenges and opportunities. These were carried out in 12 LGs.
Six LG Kiryandongo, Luuka, Butaleja, Oyam, Sheema, and Kyotera — were engaged in awareness sessions on key legal provisions for local revenue enforcement to enhance compliance and strengthen enforcement capacity

Variances and Challenges

(i) Limited utilization of Local Revenue enhancement plans to guide annual LR planning.
(ii) weak change management on the shift from manual collections to digital collection of LR on IRAS.
(iii) Use of manual Local Revenue collection systems by Local Governments amidst digitalization
(iv) Central government Votes Continue to frustrate local revenue planning and utilization through late release of information and conditionalities on some LR sources e.g UWA and MoEMD; Tourism and mineral based royalties.
(v) Declining share of the Local Government budget amidst increasing overall Government budgets

Information collected on the state of services in Health and Education to inform advisory.	The Commission conducted field-based data collection on the state of Health and Education services in Local Governments to inform constitutional advice on financing decentralized services. This assessment comes against the backdrop of increased health sector funding in FY 2025/26, with the national health budget rising to UGX 5.87 trillion (8.1% of the national budget). However, persistent challenges remain in the timely flow of funds, staffing, and infrastructure at local levels. LGFC conducted a review of the grants allocation formula to assess the impact of socio-economic shocks like COVID-19, Ebola, inflation, and other disasters on grant allocation and local government services. The review aimed to develop sustainable mechanisms to address these challenges. Under Education and sports the following was noted, • The current formula aligns with budget guidelines but only partially meets equity, transparency, and practicality goals due to inadequate funding. •It does not account for cost variations, requiring revised parameters. •The Ministry lacks comprehensive data on grant-affecting variables and requests support from UBOS and the Ministry of Finance. •Delays between data upload and funding issuance need to be addressed. The Health sector it was noted that •Allocation formula challenges persist, including disparities between municipalities and districts. •Fund distribution is unequal, with some areas receiving more than needed due to inequitable parameter

National and LG budgets Analyzed for compliance; adequacy, equity in allocations and absorption issues	The Commission conducted a comprehensive analysis of both National and Local Government (LG) budgets to assess compliance, adequacy, equity in allocations, and absorption challenges. The analysis compared LG grant levels against the national budget and established the percentage share allocated to LG programme areas, as well as LG funds embedded within MDAs. The Commission conducted Court Compliance Checks in 08 Magisterial Areas of Luwero, Nakasongola, Kayunga, Buikwe, Kyenjojo, Kibaale, Dokolo, Kaberamaido and 04 High Court Circuit of Kiboga, Jinja, Iganga and Luwero. In addition, One(1) Anti-Corruption Baraza in Kamuli; Four (4) radio talk shows in Kasese, Fortportal, Kiboga, and Buliisa; and One (1) Anti-corruption workshop (sensitize local government duty bearers) in Arua district on processes for facilitating a corruption free judiciary were conducted.

The commission undertook 2 Media engagements; 1 Prison in-mates sensitizations on prisoners' rights and trial procedure and JSC mandate in Ngogwe Prison in Buikwe District; 2 live Television shows, 20 radio talk shows, 15 court users engagements; 5 engagements with other staff of the Judiciary; 5 engagements with judicial officers; 5 School sensitizations; and engagements with members of 10 Local Council Courts.

Variances and Challenges

1. The Commission still faces transport challenges that affects timely activity implementation. The Commission's fleet is also past the recommended mileage and age which makes it expensive to maintain.

2. The Commission also faces challenge of office equipment. There has been low release of funds under retooling project over the years which has limited the Commission to retool and provide appropriate office equipment to it's staff.

3. The Commission had a staffing gap majorly under the critical departments. This over works the lean staff and therefore affect delivery.

4. The Commission is not yet fully automated which affects its service delivery to the public. There is a need to fully automate all the business processes for the commission to increase efficiency and effectiveness.

• 07 regulations and guidelines were developed i.e. Service of restoration orders, Payment of Ecosystem (PES) guidelines, Noise and Vibration regulation, Wetland and lakeshore regulations, National Environment Fund Regulation and Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) regulations, Restoration Action Plans (RAPs) and guidelines for: degraded wetlands, river banks, water catchments, forests and hilltops
• Reviewed and finalized 862 ESIA documents out of the planned 1,038 contributing to 83% achievement
• Reviewed and processed 161 ESIA Extensions
• Reviewed and finalized 1,427 Audit documents out of the planned 1,326 contributing to 108% achievement
• Commemorated the World Environment Day in Kabale District under the theme “United Against Plastic Pollution”
• Conducted 340 Enforcement Operations in Q4
• Conducted 406 Environment Compliance and Audit inspections
• Conducted 242 Baseline Verification Inspections
• Launched the National State of Environment Report 2024

• Hosted the National Environment Sustainability Awards
• Processed 122 Waste Management Licenses (98 Approved, 15 Differed and 09 rejected)
• Published 02 Articles; Environmental impacts of cage fish farming and Impacts of Sand Mining on Fish Breeding
• Conducted sensitization and awareness on environment management through community meetings, media that's UBC TV, Spot messages and Radio talk shows on issues related to wetland degradation and encroachment, plastic pollution etc.

Variances and Challenges

• Inadequate funding for management of environment and natural resources which hinders effective environment management.
• Inadequate personnel at Environment Protection Force Unit. Only 44 EPF officers recruited out of the 150 approved hence the number is too low to conduct enforcement in the entire country.
• Lack of equipment and service providers for towing of exhibits found degrading the wetland i.e. trucks, excavators, and wheel loaders among other towing services.
• Inadequate equipment for environment monitoring including air quality monitoring and pollution control
• Low Performance of NTR was as a result of the Revised Target from 30.840 Billion to 16.974 Billion

Quarter 4

Performance highlights for the Quarter

40 percent of the procurements were conducted according to market price. This suggests substantial weaknesses in market price benchmarking, contract negotiation, or contract variation controls.
Only 61 percent of contracts were completed on time, and just 39 percent of contracts had timely payments. These figures highlight systemic delays in contract execution and financial disbursements, which may undermine service delivery, vendor trust, and project efficiency. The proportion of contracts completed within cost, stood at 26% pointing to prevalent cost overruns likely caused by poor planning, weak contract management, or flawed procurement estimates.
56 percent of contract value was awarded to local providers against a 70 percent target. It reflects a partial success in supporting local economic development through procurement, though it may also indicate challenges in the capacity or competitiveness of local suppliers.
53%of contract value was subjected to open competition. This shortfall is indicative of overreliance on direct procurement, restricted bidding, or emergency procurement methods, which compromise transparency and value for money. Similarly, procurement plan implementation stood at just 19 percent which points to a broader breakdown in planning discipline and execution across procuring and disposing entities (PDEs).
15% of the contracts were rated satisfactory which points to flaws in the procurement process, significant dissatisfaction with service quality, contract deliverables. It points to poor procurement management and contract supervision in Entities and the misalignment of procurement outcomes with user expectations.
The Authority issued 60 procurement performance reports and 13 compliance audit reports.
The Authority undertook 13 bid preparatory audits aimed at ensuring that public procurement planning and requisitions are conducted in a manner which promotes transparency, accountability and fairness.

Variances and Challenges

Limited audit coverage. The Authority currently conducts audits on a sample and risk basis. The current audit coverage is only 35% and this position is continuously being worsened by the ever-increasing number of both central and Local Government Entities.
Old fleet of vehicles yet most of the PPDA activities are field-based. This implies that the Authority is not able to send multiple teams to the field to implement the planned activities.
Delayed payments to providers as a result of delayed receipt of funds and non-realization of expected funds disbursement among PDEs;
Non-implementation of the procurement plans among PDEs, partly attributed to non-realization of entity budgets;
High value projects are implemented mainly by foreign providers, leading to low proportion of contracts by value awarded to local providers;

Quarter 4

Performance highlights for the Quarter

1) Product/system Certification. 1,776 product and 9 management system certification permits were issued during the period under review.
2) National Metrology Laboratory. 1,044 industrial equipment were calibrated which enabled large, medium, small and micro firms to effectively control manufacturing processes and meet certification requirements, in supports of SME development and export promotion; Metrology, analysis, medical and testing laboratories meet accreditation and regulatory measurement traceability and accuracy requirements.
3) Product Testing. 6,861 products were tested in the UNBS testing laboratories in the period under review.
4) Standards development. 272 Final Draft Uganda Standards (FDUS) that have been considered by SMC are ready for approval by NSC.
5) Imports inspection. 85,867 import consignments were inspected during the period under review. The categories of products inspected included used motor vehicles, food items, chemicals, furniture electricals and electronics e.t.c This as a result prevented substandard goods from entering the country that would have otherwise been detrimental to the health and safety of Ugandans and to environment.
6) Market surveillance. 602 market outlets were inspected during the period under review. These inspections were carried out in super markets, shops and distribution outlets, hardware shops, manufacturing premises and distribution vans and trucks.
7) Legal metrology. 73,616 equipment were verified during the period under review. These included weigh bridges, electricity meters, consumer goods, fuel dispensers, pressure gauges, bulk meters, dipsticks, road tankers, counter machines, weights, spring balances and platform scales.
8) Marketing and Public relations. The division conducted 10 stakeholders' engagements and 2 sensitisation and awareness campaigns. Majority of the stakeholders were MSMEs, start-up enterprises, manufacturers, education institutions, media, traders, LG officials and traders e.t.c

Variances and Challenges

1. Gross inadequate staffing levels occasioned by wage ceilings by MoFPED. The bureau is operating with few staff of 524 which is below the minimum required level of 1164 to implement the mandate of trade facilitation, consumer protection through boarder control and standards enforcement throughout the whole country
2. Limited and outdated equipment for the laboratories occasioned by the lack of funding under the project . UNBS operates modern food safety laboratories at its Headquarters in Bweyogerere that are equipped to the tune of 60 percent. UNBS has constructed National Metrology Laboratory under the ADB funding. However, there is need to procure furniture and specialized equipment.
3. Inadequate ICT Infrastructure support. The level of automation at UNBS meant to promote online access to its services is still inadequate.
4. Inadequate decentralization of UNBS Services. UNBS is currently in 7 districts out of 136 districts of Uganda namely Wakiso, Kampala, Mbale, Jinja, Mbarara, Gulu and Lira. The UNBS services at these offices are still inadequate due to understaffing, shortage of field vehicles for daily operations in the regions. Additionally, Certification and Market Surveillance activities go hand in hand with Testing and there is inadequate specialized equipment in the laboratories in the regions for testing of product samples.
5. Limited Support to MSMES in line with BUBU and Industrialization Policy due to inadequate staffing and technology. The service turnaround time and cost of certification is perceived unfavourable calling for more sensitization and capacity building to improve uptake of standardization services and competitiveness of Uganda's private sector.
6. Delays in release of quarterly funds leading to stalling of field work and uncertified/sub standard products on the market.
7. Inadequate funding for field activities, procurement of field vehicles, requisite ICT and specialised equipment.

Upto 21,509.2 ha of CFR was assessed as follows; A total of 13,975.5ha under Tree planters and 7,533.7 under Collaborative Forest Management (CFM). A total of 356.3 ha of CFR were couped for disposal as follows; 51 ha in Mafuga CFR; 51.3 ha in Kirima CFR;52 ha in Rwoho CFR; 19.4 ha in Kyehara CFR; 23.7 ha in Oruha CFR; 11 ha in Okavu-reru CFR; 83 ha in Nilebank CFR; 15.5 ha in Abera Minor; 44.1 ha in Keyo CFR; and 5.3 ha in Lagute CFR. Seven (7) nurseries had their infrastructure maintained including nurseries in Jinja, Kagora,WestNile,Mbarara,Namanve,Rwensambya, and Gulu. An area of 125 ha of commercial tree plantations established with 100 ha established under NFA in South Busoga CFR and 25 ha established by Private tree planters in Kyahi CFR.

Variances and Challenges

Inadequate funds for implementation of planned activities like opening and maintaining fire lines, conducting of the National Forest resources and product market survey, and publishing of the 2023 National Land cover report for Uganda. Illegal land titles, land claims and court injunctions that delay implementation of activities and increase damage caused by encroachers to the reserve due to unfair injunctions. Increase in encroachment on urban forest reserves' land by communities. Inadequate transport facilities (vehicles/motorcycles) and fuel for field operations and inspections. Inadequate fleet to facilitate effective forest protection and management activities. Lack of Firefighting equipment and infrastructure in some Plantation Management Areas (PMAs) like Rwoho and Bugamba CFRs.There is a challenge of poor funds absorption under external financing (Investing in Forests and Protected Areas for Climate Smart Development (IFPACD)). This is attributed to lengthy procurement processes especially for major infrastructure projects which has had a negative effect on funds utilization.
